

Class of 2015
Congratulations: NATI Graduates
November 19th, 2015

The New Amsterdam Technical Institute Alumni Association, Toronto, sends its sincere congratulations to the 2015 Graduates of our Alma Mater.

We are encouraged that, through your training, you are positioned to enter into the workforce with skills that are the foundation of your career, and in addition, will contribute to the economy of our country.

This is the end of one phase, but even more importantly, the beginning of a new phase in your journey to a future of promise. We encourage you to build on the foundation you have gained from NATI with further training, until you become a master of your craft. Your potential is what you desire for yourself. Seek to be the best at whatever you do. Your efforts will be rewarded and even more importantly, you will have contributed to a better world for all those whose lives you will touch.

As well, this Institute will have provided you with friends, in some cases, life-long friends. Learning together as students, day by day, is often the bedrock for our community as adults. Keep in touch and cherish these friendships. Remember the times of innocent fun, laughter, competition, and shared experiences in the classroom and out of it. We alumni are still connected as friends here and around the world. Also please visit us at www.natiaa.com

Take time to thank your parents and teachers, and all who have supported you in your growth. Their daily work creates your potential for achievement.

NATI has been the basis for our successful lives in many areas of learning. We are committed to support our Alma Mater, the New Amsterdam Technical Institute, in maintaining the standards of training that are required of today's workforce. We ourselves look forward to the continued and steady growth of the Institute, especially as we approach the 50th Anniversary of our country's Independence.

May your lives be blessed with success and growth as you face the challenges of the future.
